PRICE CEILING PLAN OUTLINED TO MERCHANTS

Marion Boards To Have New Districts May Get Field Office.

Some of the avalanche of price ceiling regulations descended on Marion today. The plan outlined last week by the Federal Reserve Board in scores of communities was explained to Marion merchants by the Thomas A. Boardman, who is in charge of the Marion office of the Federal Reserve Board.

The plan, which was explained by Boardman, is a part of the Federal Reserve Board's plan to control prices and rents. It is a part of the Federal Reserve Board's plan to control prices and rents.

War Plant To Have Hundreds of Patrolmen; Chief Is Hired

Other War Plant News Includes Barring of Civilian Cars from Ordnance Plant Site.

The appointment of a patrol chief who will direct a force of patrolmen that eventually will number several hundred men topped today's list of news developments about the Scioto Ordnance Plant.

Other news included the announcement that a fleet of 80 automobiles and trucks is being used at the plant.

Civilian automobiles, cameras and guns have been barred from the ordnance plant area.

Today's issue of the weekly plant newspaper includes a brief biographical sketch of V. O. McClurg, one of the key engineers on construction of the plant, an appeal for conservation of wild life on the plant site and an account of the first foremen's meeting.

SUGAR RATION REGISTER HIGH

32,417 Total Indicates Population Increase Over 1940 Census Figure.

Registrations in Marion city for sugar rationing books in the four-day period which ended yesterday, show a definite population increase, according to figures released today by Supt. E. E. Holt.

A total of 32,417 applications were made for rationing books, an increase of 1,660 over the 1940 official census of 30,817.

A special two-hour registration this afternoon for city residents is expected to increase the number of registrations by at least several hundred.

Results of the registration in Marion county has not been filed this morning in the office of Supt. D. T. Mills, in charge of the county registration.

City residents who failed to register in the allotted four-day period, were given an opportunity in special registration hours of 2 to 4 this afternoon in all elementary schools. Registration in the county closed last night.

Nearly 2,000,000 Ohioans failed to register, Harry J. Patterson, state sugar rationing administrator, reported today in an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus.

He estimated that 5,300,000 of the state's 7,500,000 residents had received sugar books and termed "unpatriotic" the failure of others to "declare their sugar and place themselves under rationing with their neighbors."

He announced that federal inspectors are checking throughout the state on reported violations but declined to name areas under scrutiny.

Patterson asserted that registration figures indicated more residents had stocks of sugar on hand than had been supposed previously.

The Victory Pledge—Be Sure To Sign

PLEDGE FOR REGULAR INVESTMENT IN DEFENSE SAVINGS BONDS

NOTE—This is not an order form. The signer will buy Defense Savings Bonds by one of the methods listed below:

To aid the National Defense, I pledge that:

I will invest the sum of $_____ in Defense Savings Bonds (or Stamps) each _____ week _____ month.

I will buy these Bonds:

☐ From a post office, bank, or other sales agency.

☐ By mail from the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

☐ Under a Pay-Roll Savings Plan (or other similar arrangement for regular purchasing) in effect at my place of employment.

☐ Through a regular purchase plan installed by the following organization: _____

I will faithfully fulfill this pledge for the duration of the War or so long as I am financially able to do so.

Above is a reproduction of the form to be used in Marion's war bond pledge campaign starting today. Drive leaders have suggested Marion families help the canvassers by having the above form filled out ready for the workers to copy. In Marion county, outside the city the war bond pledge canvass started several days ago. Workers in both the city and outside areas are scheduled to complete their canvass Sunday.

ROAD MEN ON RAID CALL LIST

5,000 Highway Dept. Workers To Give Emergency Aid to Local Communities.

COLUMBUS, O., May 8.—Should aerial bombardment, or disastrous sabotage strike Ohio, the highway department's 5,000 employees are ready to help stricken communities resume their war activities quickly and efficiently.

Highway Director Hal G. Sours said Ohio was the nation's first state to make its entire highway personnel subject to call at any hour for emergency duty. He outlined a long list of departmental activities to aid the war effort in cooperation with defense organizations.

Although wartime scarcity of materials has curtailed construction and maintenance of the 18,000-mile state highway network, the department organization is being kept intact and trained for emergency duty.

In addition to special instruction to prevent sabotage, highway workers are being trained to use equipment for such emergency work as demolition of damaged buildings, evacuation of civilians from attack areas, decontamination, repair work and direction of civilian and military traffic to prevent congestion.

A major objective is to provide

HARDIN CO. SOLDIER MAY BE CANDIDATE

Pvt. John T. Siemon Applies for Congressional Papers.

COLUMBUS, O., May 8.—An Ohio army private wants to become a congressman.

Secretary of State John E. Sweeney reported today an application from Private John T. Siemon of Kenton for petitions to qualify him as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the 18th district in the August primary.

Siemon, a member of the Hardin county board of education and now stationed at a Salt Lake City airfield, also asked Sweeney if there were any restrictions against soldiers running for office.

Sweeney said he informed Siemon there were no restrictions.

Two Ships Sunk

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Two medium-sized United States merchant vessels have been torpedoed in the Caribbean area, the navy announced today and survivors have been landed at an east coast port.

Offensive Fails
MOSCOW, May 8.—A German spring offensive intended to smash across the Soviet Karelian frontier from Finland at three points has been repulsed, battlefront dispatches reported today.

Pledge from Every Household and Wage Earner Sought by Canvassers.

Marion city's war bond pledge campaign began today.

Between now and Sunday night, some 500 women workers will contact every Marion home to get pledges for war bonds in the weeks and months to come.

Meanwhile, a similar campaign is under way in the county outside the city of Marion. These workers began their drive several days ago and will wind up their work along with the city canvassers Sunday.

Similar campaigns also are being held throughout the nation at some time in the first nine days of May. When the job is done and the pledges are assembled, the federal treasury department will know how many war bonds the American people plan to buy and can use this information as a basis for planning the war financing program.

How To Help Workers
As the city's drive got under way, its leaders made some suggestions as to how Marion residents can help speed the work of the canvassers.

One is that every family can save itself and the canvassers considerable time if they will fill out the blank pledge form accompanying this article. This can be done at the dinner table or at any time convenient for the family when all of its members are represented. With this information assembled, it will be a task of only a few minutes to transfer the names and figures to the records of the canvasser.

Another suggestion is that Marion families have one or more of their members home during the evening, today, Saturday and in the afternoon and evening on Sunday. This would save the canvassers from making repeat calls. It was pointed out.

Important Points
Here are a few of the main points about the pledge campaign:

A pledge is your estimate of how many war bonds you will purchase by the week, month, semi-annually or annually for the duration of the war.

If you are buying war bonds through your employer on the payroll deduction plan, be sure to figure these purchases in with your pledge. For example, if your employer is deducting $2 a week for war bonds and you plan to buy additional stamps at the rate of 50 cents a week, be sure to let the canvasser know about both so you can be credited with a $2.50 weekly pledge.

The entire pledge campaign is a voluntary matter. There is no compulsion about any phase of it, but you can be patriotically helpful to the government and the war effort by signing a pledge. You do not have to disclose any information about your finances except the amount of bonds you intend to buy, and this figure will be kept confidential.

Pledge Is Essential
You are asked to make a pledge—the best estimate you can make—even though there may be some uncertainty about your income for the future. Drive leaders pointed out that the pledge is valid by any unforeseen happening that would make it impossible for you to fulfill it.

U.S. SHIPS PLAY BIGGEST ROLE

Few British Craft in Battle Seen as Beginning of Drive on Australia.

LONDON, May 8.—Naval and military experts agreed tonight that the great sea battle raging off the Solomon Islands was the beginning of the battle for Australia and that the result would have a tremendous bearing on the whole course of the war.

The immediate objective of the Japanese warships appeared to be to sever the Commonwealth's lifeline to the United States.

The naval battle was one of the few great sea clashes in which Great Britain did not have a leading role. The admiralty's denial that the Warship or any other British battleship had been sunk or damaged appeared to bear out what already was assumed in London—that few if any major British fleet units were operating in that area with the United States forces.

London naval observers declared that from the information at hand the battle resulted from interception of a Japanese invasion convoy bound from Rabaul or the Solomon Islands south to the New Hebrides or New Caledonia.

One source expressed belief

STAR CARRIERS LIST $35,121 WAR SALES

Bond and Stamp Figures for 3 Months Issued.

Marion Star newspaper carriers in the period from Jan. 8 to April 25 sold stamps and bonds amounting to $35,121.74.

This figure was revealed in a check of the weekly sales by Delmas Jenkins, circulation manager in charge of the newspaper's sales contribution to the war effort.

The total figure includes $21,820.25 in stamps. A majority of the stamp sales are in the 10 and 25 cent denominations. Several of the boys have customers who buy 50 cent and $1 stamps each week and occasionally there are orders for 65 stamps, but the sales that keep them busy are in the two lower denominations.

Last month their efforts resulted in sales totaling $8,888.88, of which $6,666.66 was in stamps.

U.S. Men in Madagascar

LONDON, May 8.—The Daily Mail disclosed today a dispatch from Madagascar which said that "a number of reports from Vichy" indicated that a large number of United States and British troops were pouring into Madagascar from the east coast of Africa.

ENGAGEMENT CALLED GREATEST IN HISTORY OF AMERICAN NAVY

By The Associated Press

Allied and Japanese warships fought to the death today in a mammoth five-day battle in the Coral sea, northeast of Australia, in which American, British and Australian gunners have already sunk or crippled at least 13 enemy warships.

United Nations headquarters announced that nine Japanese warships were sunk, including an aircraft carrier, two cruisers, two destroyers and four gunboats.

Four other enemy warships were badly damaged, a non-combat vessel sunk and two others were damaged.

The fateful struggle, still raging, appeared by all accounts to be the greatest naval battle of the new World war.

Rivals Battle of Jutland

It was also the biggest naval engagement in all American history and perhaps rivaled in magnitude the historic battle of Jutland, on May 31, 1916, between the British and German grand fleets.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters claimed a total of five United Nations warships, including the sinking of a U. S. battleship of the 32,600-ton California class, the 33,000-ton U. S. aircraft carrier Saratoga and the 19,000-ton U. S. aircraft carrier Yorktown.

In addition, Tokyo asserted, a British battleship of the 30,600-ton Warspite type was heavily damaged, perhaps sunk, and an Australian cruiser of the 10,000-ton Canberra type was damaged and may have gone down.

In London, the admiralty quickly denied that the Warspite or any other British battleship had been sunk or damaged in the Coral sea.

On the basis of the Japanese claim—which completely lacked confirmation from any allied source—it appeared that at least a section of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz's main Pacific fleet, stationed at Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, was engaged in the battle.

If so, this was the first news that the United States' great Pacific squadron had set out to challenge the Japanese fleet.

The running battle apparently started Monday off the Solomon Islands and swept westward to the Coral sea, flaring across hundreds of miles of the south Pacific.

First reports indicated it far exceeded in scope and importance the great battle of the Java sea, in which Japanese successes paved the way for the conquest of Java.

All Australia waited tensely for news to be flashed on the outcome, realizing that the fate of the Commonwealth may hinge on allied victory or defeat.

Australia's Prime Minister, John Curtin, declared "gravely" that the action was of crucial importance to the whole conduct of the war in the Far Pacific zone command.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 8.—United States forces were credited today with a smashing initial blow against Japanese ship concentrations menacing the Australian area in a widespread naval and air battle now under way.

Eight Japanese ships were sunk, four were damaged and six enemy planes were destroyed in the first encounter, according to a series of apparently unbroken continuous reports.

The navy also reported that three American submarines on patrol in oriental waters had sunk a tanker and two cargo ships.

There was an apparent one-day lull after the Monday fight in the Solomon Islands area, which is the northeast of the supply route to MacArthur's army. On Wednesday allied bombers "successfully" attacked Japanese shipping in the area, allied headquarters reported.

Yesterday Japanese naval activity was reported in waters around New Britain, just northwest of

The employment office is responsible for calling in all selective service registrants in the group of critical occupations who are not currently employed at their highest skills on war production. Mr. Scherff explained.

Critical occupations are any and all occupations for which local employment offices have current unfilled openings with war production contractors.

"Neither the employment service nor any other agency at present possesses the power of mandatory transfer to war production of individuals who are not now employing their full skills in war industry," Mr. Scherff said, "but the employment service is charged with the duty of making every reasonable effort to bring such workers into the war production program."

An employer engaged in the manufacture of non-essential products should be willing to release workers so they may transfer to war production work, Mr. Scherff said.

The employment service, of course, has no power to defer skilled workers needed in war production. That is exclusively the responsibility of the selective service boards. However, upon request the employment service is furnishing lists of needed skills to the selective service boards.

CITY MAKING TRAFFIC STUDY

Council May Be Asked To Name T. S. Cathers as Traffic Engineer.

A proposal that a city traffic engineer be appointed to study both pedestrian and automobile traffic problems in Marion is being studied in connection with a current revision of city traffic regulations. Clyde C. Caldwell, safety-service director, said today.

He said that the need for such an official has long been felt in order that various types of traffic problems could be solved efficiently, after careful study. He said there are many examples in Marion where conflicting ideas of the right-of-way could be eliminated if such an office could be set up.

Parties of the traffic engineer would include the establishment of cross walks, safety zones, traffic lanes, loading zones, school traffic zones, and lights, intersection street signs, warning signs, etc.

Mr. Caldwell said a study is in progress to determine whether certain signs and lights should be installed in zones established throughout the city. With an officially designated engineer, to study these problems in detail, service would be much more satisfactory, he said.

Mr. Caldwell said appointment of such an official would have to be authorized by city council. Acting in that capacity at present is Tom S. Cathers, city engineer, who has attended the police traffic school in an effort to serve the city with the latest traffic techniques. However, his duties as traffic engineer have not been officially established by council, Mr. Caldwell said.

LIMIT DELIVERIES FOR NEWSPAPERS

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(Wire World)—"Committees of neighbors" will be the key men in the drive to hold the cost of living down at home.

The people of your home town who sit on the local war price and rationing board will be, in a sense, your buffer against inflation. They also will be your guarantee against favoritism or corruption in the management of wartime prices and rationing.

Both Leon Henderson and Bernard Baruch, who first proposed the universal price ceiling of the war industries board of World War I, lay great stress on these "committees of neighbors" in the price set-up.

They are part of a broad effort in Washington to reconcile the necessity for government controls with the need for keeping government close to the people. They have counterparts in the local selective service boards and in the local farm price committees under the soil-conservation program.

In rationing such scarce goods as automobiles and tires, the war board has the grave responsibility of saying whose service to the war effort is most important.

It will not insist on a single delivery to a sales or distribution point if a method can be worked out which will accomplish the aim of reducing mileage for delivery vehicles.

Thus, it was explained by one spokesman, if two newspapers could arrange to pool their delivery facilities, each could send out two editions. Pooling arrangements will be subject to scrutiny by the justice department and ODT, however.

As a final remedy for unusual hardships, Eastman has the authority to revise the order as he sees fit.

Price Ceiling Plan Explained to Merchants

long sale in March. He will get relief under the "cost-of-living" provision of the regulations, but must get OPA permission to put his prices up to a non-sale level.

Sellers caught by a "squeeze of the margin" resulting from advance of wholesale prices in March without a corresponding advance in the retail price also will get relief if their problem is found by OPA to be serious enough for action. In such cases the OPA will "roll back" the squeeze between the wholesaler and manufacturer, pushing down their prices until the retailer can restore his March price and still make a profit. This "rolling back" will be carried to the point, if necessary, that the BFC will provide a subsidy to the manufacturer.

This is a price ceiling program, not one of price freeze-

ing. Prices may vary at any time under the program.

"Main Extra Records"

Mr. Burns told businessmen they will have to keep a lot of extra records and to consider extra work to comply with the program, but declared that it is just as much a price measure as the selective service act and explained why. To begin with, prices of commodities of all kinds have been rising for more than a year. Since the war began, raw materials have advanced 56 per cent, retail prices have gone up 25 per cent and the cost of living 15 per cent, he said.

Having been to the effect of rising prices in the first World War, he said it is estimated that one-third of the cost of that war to this nation was due to inflation and the above-normal cost of living. He said it is estimated 50 billion dollars would be spent needlessly in this war if there were no curb on living costs.

"That is because of two forces," he said. "One is the fact that the billions spent in our war program are going into the hands of workers, many of whom are making more money than they ever had before. The other is the fact that conversion to war production has made thousands of commodities scarce. Couple these together and you get a market cluttered with money trying to buy commodities which are hard to get. The answer is a curbing of living costs that makes a costly inflation.

Early Steps Not Enough

After pointing this background, he told now the OPA a year ago had taken steps to curb on more than 100 commodities such as metals, but this proved only a short-lived relief. The next move was the recent regulation on virtually every item on the U. S. shopping list, plus rent control.

"On May 11 the regulations on wholesale commodities, which will go into effect on May 15, are in effect, which will be very effective. On May 11 the regulations on retail prices will go into effect.

"All of these regulations will go along with the following system, which it is to be expanded shortly to control both the problems of price and purchasing of supplies where there is a shortage," he said.

Merchants may have their individual questions answered by addressing them to the Regional Office, Office of Price Administration, United Commerce Building, Cleveland, O. 1410.

In explaining that the highest prices charged by sellers for any commodity in March is to be their ceiling price under the new program, he said the March price was to be based on merchandise actually delivered rather than on commodities sold in March for future delivery.

New Lines of Merchandise
If a seller adds a commodity to his merchandise after March, he should use the price charged by his nearest competitive dealer in the particular community. He can't get it that way, a formula is provided whereby he can obtain the price on similar merchandise to give himself the same margin of profit he makes on similar items.

The OPA will go about the business of clearing up difficulties by two methods, he said. One will be to make adjustments in the cases of individual merchants, such as, for example, as the one who might have conducted a spring sale during the entire month of March. The other will be through supplemental regulations affecting all sellers of certain classes of merchandise where a problem affecting a whole branch of business has an unusual problem.

If you bought a business place from John Doe last week, you'll have to use John's March price as your ceiling and you should ask John to turn over to you all of the records he has regarding his March prices, Mr. Burns said.

On the matter of adding certain taxes to the sale cost of merchandise, sellers should follow the same practice they used in March, he said.

Doesn't Cover Everything
He pointed out that the OPA was given authority by congress to put ceilings only on specific commodities. Those not affected by the ceiling regulations, he listed in four groups: (1) Farm products, professional services and other items which do not have great effect on living costs. (2) Precious stones, seasonal fruits and vegetables where there is not an organized market. (3) Primary raw materials, most of which were previously covered by ceilings fixed by the OPA. (4) Special services such as those of lawyers, beauty shops and restaurants, exempted largely because of the difficulty of enforcement.

All sellers will be licensed by the OPA a little later. After one warning to a violator, the OPA may petition a court to withdraw the license of a seller. Other enforcement penalties include a $5,000 fine, a year's imprisonment or both. Also, after July 31, customers may sue a seller for three times the amount of any overcharge or $50 whichever is the larger amount.

Of the enforcement problem, Mr. Burns said, "There have been few draft dodgers, and since this is as much a war measure as the selective service act, we don't expect many violations."

Questions and Answers
Here, in substance, are some of the questions asked by businessmen in the audience and the answers given them:

Q. How must the prices be marked on the 100 "cost of living" commodities? A. In any manner so the buyer can immediately see what the ceiling price is. The prices may be on the package, on the shelf above or below it, on a bin containing the item or in any other place that clearly links it with the article.

Q. If I sold a certain item in March for less than it would cost me to replace it today, what can I do? A. You probably could get relief under the "out of line" price caused by asking OPA for permission to increase the price.

to you could sell at a profit.

Q. In the meantime, must I sell my merchandise at a loss or can I refuse to sell it? A. If your property—you don't have to offer it for sale.

Q. Did you say I would have to make up a list of any of the 100 "cost of living" commodities I sell by July 1? A. Yes. You must not only have the list but must show it to any customer or OPA official that asks to see it. In addition, the list and your prices must be filed with your war price and rationing board and possibly you will want to file one with an OPA field office that is likely to be set up here.

Wholesalers Affected
Q. What if my wholesaler has advanced his prices since March? A. He'll have to go back to March prices just like you do.

Q. I have a rent problem. Someone's renting one of my houses and under the rent ceiling law I'm not supposed to charge above the March 1 level. However, the renter is making money at my expense by renting out rooms. Can I control that? A. It's your property and you have enough control over it to stop him from renting out rooms, I would think.

Q. What provision has been made to take care of a merchant's increased labor costs and the extra cost that will be involved in keeping all of these records? A. None that I know of, but the President recommended control of wages in his seven-point program. Nothing has been done to put a ceiling on wages yet, but it may become necessary.

Q. To whom should I write if I have been caught in the "squeeze of the margin" by wholesale price advances during March? A. The retail Trade & Services Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

Q. Would March sales slips be enough evidence of the prices I charged then? A. Yes, but they probably wouldn't be complete because you probably would not have sold one of every item in your store during that month. It would have to be supplemented to make it complete.

Q. What about March cash sales where no record of prices were kept? A. You'll have to rely on your memory or ask some of your customers.

Grades of Merchandise
Q. If a grocer has several grades and brands of corn should he list ceiling prices on each or just on corn in general? A. He should list each brand and grade separately if the prices are different for each.

Q. What about the case of a manufacturer whose product has a ceiling price fixed but who must buy raw materials not controlled by the price regulations? A. If the problem were serious enough, the OPA might make some kind of adjustment.

Q. What about the quality and quantity of the commodity furnished? A. They have to be comparable with the quality and quantity sold in March because cheapening an item or cutting down its size would make it a different item. The idea is to give buyers a commodity of the same quality and quantity as before at prices that prevailed in March.

Q. What if farmers who butcher stock choose a meat market so much for meat that it can't afford to sell meat at March prices? A. I don't know what could be done in that situation unless you asked for a special OPA order to enable you to sell at a profit.

Q. If you owned a factory and had raised the wages of workers since March, are you supposed to ask the workers to give back the raise? A. No. There's no restriction on wages yet, although control of wages is one of the points in the President's program.

Two Kenton Youths

Are Air Corps Cadets

KENTON, May 8—Harold Harris, assistant manager of a downtown jewelry store, and one of the highest air corps cadet examination scores ever recorded at Patterson Field, and Dale Layman, who assists his father, Earl Layman, in operation of a farm near Kenton, will leave for Santa Ana, Calif., Monday and a period of training as U. S. army air corps cadets.

The two completed all entrance requirements in early February, were enlisted as privates in the air corps on March 30 and were called back to Patterson Field, April 30, to await transfer to a flying field for basic training. They are at home on a four-day pass. Harris is the son of Mrs. Georgia Harris.

Missionary Program

Is Given at Galion

GALION, May 8—Carrying out the theme of international Christianity, the women's missionary society of the United Brethren church met jointly with the World Friendship circle at a dinner-dance held at the church Thursday. Against a background of flags of many nations, the members of the two groups received their flags as favors.

In charge of the program which followed was Mrs. Raymond Gelek, who introduced Ruth Ulmer in a presentation of a version of the 23rd Psalm as translated by an American Indian. A Syrian translation of the Lord's prayer was read by Alleen Wilcox. Among the six women who discussed the topic of Christian women in many lands were Mrs. H. Ramsey, Mrs. Hazel McFiean, Mrs. C. E. Flowers, Mrs. Archie Crater, Mrs. H. F. Schupp, and Mrs. Docia Walker. Mrs. E. W. McHenry told the story of the Freedom of Speech!

(One of the Essentials of a Democracy)

Freedom of speech is but one of the many important rights America is fighting for today! Our free speech is as American as Valley Forge. Fostered by our Pilgrim Fathers, it was protected by the life-blood of the Colonials and finally written into the Bill of Rights as a sacred, inalienable right of the American people.

Lose it now? Never! To us freedom of speech is still worth fighting for. Like individual initiative, free speech has helped make America the greatest nation in the world. It took courage, foresight, and hard work to build the great private business enterprises that have made America's standard of living the highest in the world. And those same qualities—personal sacrifice, hard work, individual initiative—will again make America victorious in this fight for freedom!

were sunk or damaged May 8, and today.

Gen. MacArthur's department, reporting spectacular American successes in the second phase of the battle, presumably after it reached the Coral sea yesterday, announced:

"Heavy naval and air fighting continues.

"Our own losses are not reported."

In the latest stages, allied warships were officially credited with sinking a Japanese aircraft carrier and a heavy cruiser and badly damaging another aircraft carrier and a heavy cruiser.

While the allies appeared to have won a decisive edge so far, the Japanese navy office claimed its navy had scored "brilliant achievements in the Coral sea east of Australia on an Anglo-American combined fleet."

Imperial Tokyo headquarters said Japanese warships "discovered and caught" a powerful allied naval force on May 6 south-east of New Guinea island.

"Attacking them May 7, they instantly sank a United States battleship of the California type and seriously crippled a British 'A' class cruiser of the Canberra type and heavily damaged a British battleship of the Warspite type," the communiqué said.

Tokyo made no mention of the earlier action off the Solomon islands.

the Solomon group. Today allied bombers attacked enemy shipping concentrations in the Louisiade islands area, sinking one transport. The Louisiade archipelago is only some 200 miles off the southeastern tip of New Guinea and presence of Japanese ships in the area might indicate an attack on Port Moresby or on Australia itself.

Aside from the immediate outcome of the southwestern Pacific battle, Monday's American victory in the Solomon area again pointed the course of eventual allied superiority in naval warfare of attrition. Counting sinkings Monday and today, the Japanese now have lost 198 warships sunk to 35 lost by the United States.

In the immediate drive southward, however, the Japanese have the advantage of a seafloor from Shimonoseki to New Guinea within easy range of their shore-based planes. Fall of Corregidor gave them the use of Manila bay, and unofficial enemy reports indicated they were using every means of cleaning up scattered resistance in the Philippines.

Demand Surrender

A communiqué last night quoted these reports to the effect that the Japanese demanded the surrender of scattered American and Filipino forces under threat of resuming the bombardment of Corregidor.

"The war department has been unofficially informed through a broadcast from the Japanese-controlled Manila radio station of what are purported to be the terms of capitulation arranged after the fall of Corregidor," the communiqué said.

"As a condition precedent to the cessation of attacks on the island forts, the Japanese are said to have insisted upon the immediate surrender of the scattered American and Filipino troops operating on the various islands of the archipelago.

In order to avoid unnecessary sacrifices, General Wainwright is reported to have reluctantly acceded to these terms and to have broadcast appropriate orders to his field commanders.

"The war department has received no official confirmation on the subject and has no knowledge conditions have been met," of whether or not the reported

One of his sons is a flying cadet located at an army air base near Los Angeles. He is also father of three other boys and three girls.

When he was 10 years old, Mr. McClurg's parents moved to Brush, Col., where he graduated from grade and high school. He received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Colorado in 1911.

After graduation, he served a long line of firms. One of the most important positions he held was that of superintendent of buildings at the Hampton Roads naval base near Norfolk, Va.

During the first war, he was inspector of sewer and water lines and of power plant construction at a power plant at Nitro, W. Va.

After the war, he was inspector of construction for the Illinois Central railroad on a bridge-building project across the Chicago river. Among the projects with which he has been associated are the Chicago Board of Trade building, the Palmolive building, the North Dakota capitol building, the Northwestern Mutual Life insurance building at Milwaukee and the Statler hotel in Washington, D. ## Civilian Autos, Cameras Barred from Area

Officials at the Scioto Ordnance Plant today announced all automobiles, cameras and firearms belonging to civilians have been banned from the reservation.

Members of the plant protection department explained that employees at the reservation who possess car passes will be permitted to drive to spots where they can park their cars.

Employees who bring restricted items, such as cameras and guns, will be required to leave them at the gates, officials said. Any person who is in possession of a camera will be subject to arrest or seizure of the camera, they said. Camera passes will be issued only to authorized government photographers.

Workers Asked To Protect Wild Life

A plea for ordnance plant workers to help conserve the wild life in the plant area is made in this week's issue of the Scioto News, distributed today. The appeal follows:

Although the area of the Scioto Ordnance plant abounds in wildlife such as pheasants, rabbits, quails, fish and all kinds of game, the war department is requesting all workmen to help conserve wildlife.

Where it can be avoided, nests should not be moved nor the wildlife disturbed. Drivets on the reservation should slow down to a speed where they don't run them down. Machine operators should exercise a little judgment. America's wildlife is one of her points of pride—Keep her proud.

Foremen Hold First Meeting on Plant Site

An account of the first meeting of construction foremen on the Scioto Ordnance Plant project is printed in today's issue of the Scioto News, weekly paper printed for free distribution to employees. The account of the meeting follows:

Discussion of job problems and procedure was the main topic at the first foremen's meeting Thursday, April 30, at the old Clark brick one-room school.

Frank Fogg, general labor foreman, told of the procedure incident to the hiring and discharging of workmen.

All workmen no longer required in a gang are to be returned to the assignment office and all inefficient laborers are to be given discharge slips and not to be returned to the assignment office, Fogg declared.

Roy Heller, cost accountant, advised the group in regard to the various forms which the foremen are required to make out for the purpose of determining costs of various classifications of work.

Jim Bartholomew, general superintendent, stated in a short talk that the purpose of these meetings is to keep the foremen in closer touch with the job organization and that these meetings would give the men a chance to have a voice in the running of

Missing Marion Man Picked Up in Tiffin

C. D. Carey, 72-year-old North Main street resident who was reported missing yesterday, has been picked up in Tiffin by the sheriff there. The Marion state highway patrol reported this morning.

Patrolmen at the Marion station said they received a radio dispatch from Tiffin about 9:30 this morning, notifying them that Mr. Carey had been found.

He had been reported missing since Wednesday morning when his wife said he walked out of the house, dressed in hunting clothes and accompanied by his hunting dog. Since then, little report at his whereabouts had been received. Residents of Wyandot reported having seen him yesterday near there.

Marion county deputy sheriffs assisted most of the day yesterday in the search.

Patrolman said Mr. Carey's son, Florian C. Carey, will go to Tiffin to bring his father home.

FORMER RESIDENT OF MARION DIES

Body of Mrs. Eugenie Dickson Brought Here for Burial.

Mrs. Eugenie Covert Dickson, 83, former Marion resident and a member of one of the county's old families, died Wednesday in Springfield, Mass. after an illness of a heart ailment.

The body was brought this morning to the Schaffner-Denker Co. funeral home on East Center street.

Mrs. Dickson was born in Marion, daughter of D. Estling Covert, a native of Jordan, N. Y., and Eunice Covert, a native of Salt Rock township.

The widow of Alexander W. Dickson, she moved about 12 years ago from her home here at 294 East Church street to Springfield, Mass.

Survivors include a son by a former marriage, Hugh Robinson, who is married to Marion from Washington, D. C., and a sister, Mrs. Agnes Knapp of Phoenix, Ariz.

Funeral arrangements will be made when Mr. Robinson arrives Saturday.

LONDON

that the present battle represented a final judgment and much deliberation on both sides.

The Japanese recently have been building up naval strength at Rabaul," he said. "There is no doubt that the allied command, with daily reconnaissance reports at hand, anticipated the Japanese strength and move."

"It can be assumed that demonstrating a first-class offensive spirit, the Americans have tried to intercept and destroy a Japanese invasion convoy."

"The Japanese intention appears to be to invest the New Hebrides or New Caledonia or both to encircle Australia further on the east and cut American supply lines."

Start of Action

"The action that started Monday probably began with aircraft from American carriers operating southwest of the Solomons."

"It appears that the attacks did not stop the Japanese, who, with a powerful fleet, including battleships as well as aircraft carriers and cruisers, were able to push on toward their objective."

"The attack on the two fleets then joined battle."

Another source said, "This sort of game is indicative of the fierce type of naval action," and it was the biggest sea battle since Jutland 26 years ago.

Jutland Last Battle of Capital Fleets

By The Associated Press

The last great sea battle, in which capital fleets were engaged, was the battle of Jutland, fought May 31, 1916, in the first World war.

Although the British grand fleet, commanded by Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, suffered heavier losses than the German high sea fleet, commanded by Admiral Reinhard Scheer, the ultimate result was a victory for the British, since the Germans retired from the high seas, leaving the British in undisputed mastery.

British losses were three battleships, the Lutetia, the Queen Mary and the Invincible, three cruisers and 11 destroyers, with total casualties of 1,198 men.

German losses were three battleships, the Derfflinger, the Goeben and the Blücher, four light cruisers and five torpedo craft, with total casualties of 2,545 men.

The German fleet was composed of 10 vessels and the British of 19. One British officer in the Queen Mary was killed.

Admiral Scheer's objective was to lure the British fleet into a trap and then attack it from the rear.

The battle was a tactical draw, but it showed that the British fleet was still the most powerful in the world.

BEIGHTLER SAYS OHIO MEN RARIN' TO GO

By The Associated Press

WITH THE 37TH DIVISION, May 8.—Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, commanding officer of Ohio's 37th division, described his men today as "a little reckless because they're rarin' to go."

He said the outfit was better trained than any first World war division when it went overseas.

"Every one of our soldiers knows his weapons," Beightler asserted, "and now is a well-trained veteran in the line of them."

The boys have a fine appearance, he said, and are well trained because they're rarin' to go.

After 12 months of training, men have become hardened troops with "unfailing" discipline, he declared.

"They're very good," he said, "and they're the best of the regiment."

Beightler said the regiment is "a fine bunch of boys" and that they are "a real credit to the state."

Sugar Ration Questions, Answers Listed

A list of questions and answers on sugar rationing is being reprinted by The Star tonight at the request of County Rationing Coordinator John P. Probst, who said there has been some misunderstanding between retail stores and individual consumers as to how the rationing program is conducted.

The guide was first printed in The Star on May 1 in advance of regularizing of individual ration stamps.

Coordinator Probst has advised that grocers, housewives and other consumers affected by sugar rationing observe the list and study it.

The questions and answers state clearly the rules to be followed in obtaining sugar. The list follows:

Q—At what rate will the stamps be removed for each unit of sugar?

A—At the rate of one stamp for each excess pound. Thus a person having six pounds of sugar at the time of rationing would have four stamps removed from his book. No stamps will be removed for the first two pounds but four stamps will be removed for the next four pounds.

Q—How many stamps can I get with each stamp?

A—You may buy one pound of sugar with each of the first four stamps.

Good in Any Store

Q—Where may war ration stamps be used?

A—War ration stamps may be used in any retail store in the United States.

Q—Can I get the same amount of sugar with each stamp?

A—Not necessarily. The ration of sugar may be changed from time to time according to the total supply of sugar in the country. The ration for each stamp will be publicly announced by the government.

Q—How long is each stamp good for?

A—There is no expiration for you to buy sugar until at 7:00 p.m. But keep your war ration book carefully. It may, at a later time, be necessary to use it for other commodities if they are rationed.

Q—May I tear out a stamp and take it to the store to buy sugar?

A—No. You must take the war ration book with you and tear out the stamp in the presence of the storekeeper or his employee.

Q—Suppose I order sugar by telephone?

A—Before the person making the delivery can give you the sugar you must show him the war ration book, or the first six ration books, and in preparing your order, you must show him the amount of sugar you have ordered. He cannot give you more sugar than your stamps allow even if it has been sent. He would have to take the balance back to the store. Give the person delivering the sugar the stamps and tear out of the war ration book.

Special Allowances

Q—What if I need more sugar than I get with my war ration book?

A—If it is absolutely necessary for you or your family to have more sugar for home rationing, illness or other special reason, you may go to your local rationing board. They will decide whether you can have this special allowance and how much you can have. They may then issue to you a special certificate permitting you to buy a specified amount of sugar for a specified purpose. You will not need to use the war ration book or books in buying sugar with this certificate.

Q—What do I do if my war ration book is lost, stolen, destroyed, or mutilated?

A—Report the facts to the local rationing board at once.

Q—Can I send my war ration book home to my family to use?

A—No. Your war ration book is issued to be used by or for you. The sugar it permits you to buy is intended to be used by you or by the family of which you are a member and with whom you live.

Q—Do these war ration stamps entitle me to get sugar for nothing?

A—No. They only entitle you to buy sugar. They determine the amount of sugar you or anyone else may buy.

Q—Do I have to buy sugar because I have a war ration book?

A—No. The war ration book gives you the right to buy certain amounts of sugar. If you do not need sugar do not buy it.

Q—If my family has enough stamps can we buy more than 2 pounds of sugar at a time?

A—Yes. You can buy as much sugar as your family's stamps entitle them to in the period during which these stamps are valid.

Q—I make candy and cakes and sell them to make money. How can I get sugar I need for these?

A—Apply and register at the an English officer who has been slain in India.

Humor and Romance

Humor is injected by a family of three tourists from an Illinois town of 10,000 population. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman and their daughter. Romance enters the first act with the arrival of Miss Gerson, a New York buyer, trying to get home. She has met Captain Woodhouse in Berlin a few weeks before but he feigns no acquaintance until he can get her alone long enough to tell her not to reveal their previous meeting and to trust him implicitly.

Her trust is tested to the fullest through the next two acts, up to the closing few moments. These two acts take place in the library of the home of Major General Crandall and his American-born wife Lady Crandall, who takes an interest in the American family. Miss Gerson and Mr. Kimball, an expatriate dandy seeking to return to America before the war situation becomes critical. She invites them to her home. The enemy spies plan to blow up the British fleet and almost succeed except that Miss Gerson catches the Indian servant in the act of stealing the necessary plans. The denouement of the plot reveals the perfection of the British counter-espionage system and leads to the downfall of the Indian, embittered because the British had robbed him of his kingdom.

Has Humorous Role

Another character whose role draws laughs is that of Mr. Reynolds, the American consul harassed by fellow-Americans seeking passage home from the dangerous area.

Mr. Capper is an avowed Englishman who first suggests to the major general that Captain Woodhouse is a German and Major Bishop is the English officer who helps the major general attempt to trap the captain. Fritz is a German barber on the Rock who is interned by the British and Sergeant Crosby, a soldier and an orderly are members of the British garrison. The maid is a servant in the Crandall mansion and the bellhop is employed in Almer's "Hotel Splendide."

That last night's audience was well aware of the sugar rationing of the last four days came at a tea in the major general's home. Lady Crandall asked Captain Woodhouse how he wished his tea and was told: "One lump of sugar, please."

Elaborate Setting

The library setting, designed and constructed under the direction of Levi Welch, superintendent of buildings and grounds, and Cyril Blow, high school custodian, was one of the finest ever created for a senior play. The wall tapestry was designed in the art classes, under the direction of Miss June Clawson, and two portraits were painted by W. C. Scranton.

Music was furnished by the high school orchestra, under the direction of Homer E. Huffman, instrumental music supervisor. Just before the curtain was raised on the first act the orchestra played the national anthem.

Following an established custom, there were no curtain calls and all flowers were delivered backstage.

Backstage after the performance, Miss Lucille Foreman, director, was wearing a large purple orchid, a gift from the young people, and the girls were wearing corsages sent by families and friends. Many parents and friends who lingered in the auditorium

BRITISH LIBYA POSITION SAFE

Secured for Summer by Malta and Diego Suarez

Capture.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 5.—The British position in Libya is secured for the summer by the occupation of Madagascar's Diego Suarez naval base and Malta's successful defense against axis air attacks which evidently were intended to open the way for invasion, a well-informed military observer said today.

Capitulation of French forces in the Diego Suarez bay area reduced the Japanese threat to Indian ocean supply lines. Dwindling of German-Italian mass air raids within the last two weeks has left the rock-based naval and air forces of Malta still preying upon axis convoys in the Mediterranean.

General Sir William George Sheddin, Donbas, 62-year-old World veteran who had weathered more than 2,000 air attacks upon Malta, has been succeeded as governor and commander-in-chief by Viscount Gort, 55-year-old former chief of the imperial staff, it was announced last night.

Known As Tiger Gort

Lord Gort, 55, is known to the British as "Tiger Gort." He led the British expeditionary force in France at the beginning of the war. Since April, 1941, he had been in command at Gibraltar.

General Dobbie is expected to return to England to rest.

The military observer said Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was not strong enough to open large scale operations against the British armies in North Africa and that constant submarine attacks upon German supply convoys made the axis supply situation precarious.

The said heavy air attacks against Malta had slackened since April 25 and added:

"There is no doubt in my mind that these were intended as a preliminary to a sea-borne invasion of Malta. The RAF and anti-aircraft batteries defeated the Luftwaffe. Invasion plans were upstaged."

Malta Still Operates

"Malta is still operating and axis supplies are still being sunk. Unless Rommel disregards all rules and attacks a superior force under bad conditions there will be no campaign this summer."

Confronted by British strength in excess of their expectations, the Germans may try to push through Turkey toward the oil of Iraq and Iran and a juncture with the Japanese "somewhere out there," the observer commented.

He said a "slightly unbalanced picture of Rommel's ability is current in Britain."

"It's about time someone tells the world the Germans pull their pants on one leg at a time like everyone else and the Italians aren't funny-page soldiers."

"How do the Germans and Italians get on? Like the Giants and the Dodgers."

Ohio Grid Stars and Coaches Recruit All Buckeye Squadron of Navy Fliers

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 5.—Three erstwhile coaches and a former Ohio State university athlete star are recruiting Ohio for top-flight air-minded youths to join the "Buckeye squadron."

The "Buckeye squadron" will be the first all-Ohio contingent of naval aviation cadets to begin a year's training designed to fit them for what the navy describes as the most efficient naval aeronautical organization in the world.

Beating the recruiting drums are Eddie Bieckle, former Ohio state assistant coach in football and basketball, Melvin Hudd Cox, baseball and athletic football coach at Bowling Green State university, William (Bud) Houghton, coach of Massillon high school's famed Tigers, and Rie-

JAPS DELAY RELEASE OF PRISONERS' NAMES

Considerable Time May Pass Before List Is Received.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The long Japanese delay in reporting the names of American prisoners taken in the early stages of the war suggested today that months may elapse before those captured or killed in the Philippines will be known.

Many who fell in the heroic defense of Corregidor and Bataan may be permanently listed as missing.

For weeks the war department has been obliged to respond to thousands of inquiries from families of officers and men by saying that no information was available.

Undersecretary Robert P. Patterson said "this anxiety is easy to understand" and assured that any information as to casualties or prisoners would be telegraphed immediately to the next of kin.

Of the more than 50,000 American and Filipino troops and naval and marine corps personnel estimated to have been captured, death or suffered wounds, specific reports have been received thus far on only a few hundred.

The war department has been able to report the names of only 121 officers and men killed in the Philippines, and fewer than 300 other army personnel who met death in other Pacific war theaters.

Two lists of American prisoners and interned civilians forwarded by the Japanese thus far through the International Red Cross committee at Geneva total but 339. None was listed as captured in the Philippines.

Radio communications were "strained to the utmost" by military necessities, Patterson explained, and made it impossible to dispatch inquiries to military headquarters on beleaguered Corregidor as to whether any individual was safe or otherwise.

Mothers Honored At Wesleyan Guild Party

The Wesleyan Service guild of the Prospect Street Methodist church entertained with a party Tuesday night for the pleasure of mothers of the members and several guests. Green and yellow carried out a color note and the tables were laid with green checked cloths and centered with bouquets of yellow tulips. Memorandum pads were the guest favors. Mrs. Helen Mitchell welcomed the guests. Taking part in a program in the form of a "WSSG" radio broadcast, were Mrs. Kenneth Connolly and Miss Helen Risch. Plans were completed for a rummage sale Saturday.

Hearing on Route 95 Change Set at Mt. Gilead

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, May 5.—Following action of the Mt. Gilead council in asking that Marion street be designated as an alternate route for Route 95 traffic through Mt. Gilead the state highway department has announced that a public hearing will be held on the question at the state highway garage here on Wednesday, May 22, at 10 a. m.

The proposed addition to the state highway system would begin at the intersection of West High street and Marion street and continue east on Marion street for 1.1 miles to the intersection of Marion and East High streets.

If the change is made Marion street will be designated for east-bound traffic on the route.

Test Air Raid Warning at Bucyrus Tonight

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, May 5.—Bucyrusians will experience their first air raid warning at 7:30 o'clock tonight when whistles at eight of the city's major industries will sound the alarm. It was announced by S. K. Kalber, chief engineer at the Smith Incubator Co., who is in charge of the tests.

There will be a series of 30-second blasts over a five-minute period with 15-second intervals followed by a three-minute period of silence and concluding with a one-minute "all-clear" blast.

E. C. Oppenlander, air raid warden chief, reported that all air raid wardens will be at their posts to determine whether the present warning facilities are adequate to meet an emergency.

Oxygen Treatment For Baby Is Continued

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKinley, of 272 Lincoln avenue, was taken to City hospital early this morning for intermittent oxygen treatment.

Born yesterday morning in the home, the baby had difficulty in breathing and the inhalator squad from Central fire station worked over him for about 30 minutes. Early this morning, when it became apparent that the baby would need the help of oxygen for a time, he was taken to the hospital for regular treatment. He was doing "fairly well" this afternoon, the physician reported.

Find Way To Make Sugar Last Longer

By The Associated Press

GAINESVILLE, Fla., May 5.—Would you like to make that rationed sugar go further? Well, here's how, and the information comes from Florida agricultural experiment station scientists:

Mix one pound of sugar and seven ounces of water. Add a teaspoon of tartaric acid (which you can get at any drug store). Cover this sugar, water and tartaric acid mixture and boil gently for 30 minutes. Then allow to cool. And you have invert sugar syrup, each cup of which is equal in sweetening to a cup of sugar.

This syrup is tops for sweetening fruits and cereals, on waffles and hot cakes, in baking and in making ice cream, experiment station officials said. For use in baking and ice cream, however, it must be taken into consideration that the syrup is about one-third water and allowances must be made for this in adding other liquid ingredients.

Dizziness

Meniere's disease is a common form of dizziness or vertigo. Many people write to me about it. Last week I am glad to hear that a patient of mine, Mrs. J. M. A. of New York, has been cured. She writes: "I have been suffering from Meniere's disease for many years. I am glad to hear that you have cured me. I am glad to hear that you have cured me. I am glad to hear that you have cured me."

One of the most common causes of dizziness is Meniere's disease. It is a disease of the inner ear. It is characterized by attacks of dizziness, tinnitus, and deafness. It is a disease of the inner ear. It is characterized by attacks of dizziness, tinnitus, and deafness.

There is a great deal of evidence to show that with attacks of dizziness, tinnitus, and deafness, there is a change in the body's substance known as histamine. It is therefore possible to treat a patient with Meniere's disease by using a substance known as histamine.

A small amount of histamine is injected into the skin and in many instances, produces not only a wheal at the local site of injection, but also induces an attack of vertigo. When this has been proved to be true of any patient, he is then put on an elimination diet to see what food substances he is sensitive to. This has proved of great value in treating the allergic group of cases.

There is another large group of patients with Meniere's disease in which the attacks of vertigo are probably due to constriction of the arteries in the internal ear in the organ of equilibrium. This second group of patients are likely to be elderly people, at least over 60 years old, and constitute a good deal larger group than the allergic group.

There is no reason why the arteries in the organ of equilibrium should not undergo constriction just as much as the arteries of the heart undergo constriction to produce angina pectoris in the same age group of patients. It has been found that treatment directed toward relieving spasm of the arteries will relieve attacks of Meniere's disease, such as the use of amyl nitrite pearls, nitroglycerine and other dilating agents.

These investigations give a much more cheerful view to the outlook for the patient with Meniere's disease than has previously been held. Many surgeons have bluntly expressed the view that the only thing to do with Meniere's disease is to perform an operation and cut the auditory nerve, which although it relieves the attacks of vertigo, leaves the patient deaf.

There are, of course, some cases of Meniere's disease which be-

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

Gangsters Glare at Mader when She Looks Into Their Car, and Captain Gives Her a Phone Number.

THE CAPTAIN of the Blue Gangsters was a very handsome man, with a broad forehead and a wide smile. He was a man of many talents, and he was a man of many secrets. He was a man of many secrets, and he was a man of many talents.

There was a lot of what he says. There was a lot of what he says. There was a lot of what he says. There was a lot of what he says. There was a lot of what he says.

They were not a gang, but I knew there was a reason to fear they would try to attract attention to themselves by calling out, unless they remembered some of their gangster associates on the business journey, and that was most unlikely. Although they probably would talk in a jargon unintelligible to anyone else, a literal stenographic copy of every syllable would be taken by the officer and turned over to me at the end of the trip.

There was something else that was to be turned over to me before we should start, and with an injunction to Bill to start on ahead, going the way we had come, but waiting for us at Branchman's, I showed hands with only waste time, and entered the car where Bill, of our own guard, was in the driver's seat, with Jim Watson and the other trooper, whom the captain had detailed for the trip, seated beside him, but facing the rear of the car.

"What are you doing with the pad of paper and pencil, and all these men tracks?" Jim Watson was asking as we came up, and I guessed that his question and the trooper's answer had been prearranged, in order that the trooper could take down stenographic notes of any conversation among the gangsters without exciting their suspicions.

"Catching up on my home work," the trooper replied with a grin. "I had a lot of work to type out tonight, when the cap slipped me this job of playing nurse and watch dog to these babies here. I come so severe and continuous as to make this prospect acceptable, but most of them are milder, and it is to be hoped that the application of these ideals of groups caused by allergy or vaso-constriction will lead to relief without the employment of such drastic means."

can type that course, but I can get it in a better shape to type than it is now, if I get so fast when he speaks, and I have to spend hours attempting to transcribe the words. And when I am a little tired, I am a little tired.
